Winemaking

This red Burgundy comes from two different parcels planted with Pinot Noir grapes, with an average age of over 50 years. The vineyards are located in the Meursault area, in the villages of Champans in Puligny-Montrachet, Hautes Coutures, and Grandes Coutures in Meursault. The vinification and aging take place in Tronçais barrels, 25% of which are new. The wine is bottled without fining or filtration.

Our tasting note

Bright ruby red color. It exudes a wonderful fragrance of dried red fruits, roses, mint, autumn leaves, and exotic spices. Full-bodied, charming, and juicy, balanced with beautiful, elegant tannins and extract. A top-quality Burgundy with an optimal price-to-pleasure ratio!

Buisson-Charles

The Buisson-Charles estate covers a modest 6.3 hectares and has been cultivating parcels in the Meursault area for several generations. Its holdings also include crus from Volnay and Pommard, while its négociant activities encompass red wines from Corton and Chambertin, as well as white wines from Chassagne-Montrachet, Puligny-Montrachet, Chablis Premier Cru, Pouilly-Fuissé Premier Cru, and Corton-Charlemagne. The estate's old vines, ranging from 30 to 90 years of age, naturally produce low yields, resulting in highly concentrated wines with excellent aging potential after vinification and maturation. Catherine Buisson and her husband Patrick Essa have been managing the estate since 2001, and they are fortunate to have their son, Louis, return to the winery after completing his studies as an oenological engineer. There's no doubt that Louis will follow in his parents' footsteps in the years to come. The 2019 vintage marked a significant milestone as it was the first one he fully vinified on his own.
