Winemaking

Traditional fermentation is carried out over 10 days at a controlled temperature in steel tanks. Subsequently, the biological acid degradation and storage takes place in large oak barrels, as well as partially in steel tanks.

Our tasting note

The Pinot Nero has a clear and fresh ruby-red colour. A fruity interplay of aromas between beetroot, cherry and raspberry, as well as a tangy note with a pinch of white pepper are what characterise the nose of this wine. This wine captures the palate with a juicy structure and inviting freshness, with soft, smooth tannins, subtle tanginess in the background as well as with a youthfully elegant finish.

Elena Walch
